Quiz 4

Solution:

The proof is simple, if you run DFS on the connected graph, you will definitely create a search tree based on this graph and there must exist the leaf node. Then if you remove the leaf node, the rest of nodes will still be connected and you will still have a connected graph here.